Healing from LGBTQ and Same-sex Attractions

Today is February 27th. It is my 54th spiritual birthday, the day I was born again. I don't know if today in 1970 is the day the Lord began healing me of the effects of homosexuality in my life, or if it was the day 31 years ago when I went into recovery for sexual addiction. I guess it really doesn't matter. The important thing is that Jesus has brought healing to my life.

Healing from God can come in many, many different ways. The ways He brings healing in me most likely will be different than yours. And what does this/these healing(s) look(s) like?

Healing can come from the miraculous touch by God which takes one from completely same-sex attracted (SSA) to completely opposite-sex attracted (OSA). Out of the thousands of believers I've known over the years, I know only a handful who have been so touched by the Lord.

One's SSA can be healed gradually with attractions decreasing more and more over time. This can happen through a growing intimacy in one's relationship to God; through a greater knowledge of, and living out, the Scriptures; through a strong and effective prayer life; becoming more perfectly conformed to the image of Jesus; thriving in a healthy community of believers who accept, love, and nurture strugglers towards God and away from LGBTQ lives; cultivating a life of thankfulness; not conforming to the world's standards, but rather being transformed by our minds being renewed and remaining in the will of God.

Healing can come from God by Him providing men and women in our lives who model righteousness, holiness, and godliness to us; saints we can emulate. Healing can come through discipleship and mentoring, following the Lord's way closely behind and beside those who have gone before us.

Healing can come through deliverance from destructive sinful behaviors like the compulsion towards sexual hook-ups or unhealthy emotional attachments; being set free from pornography and masturbation addictions; renouncing and turning away from sins like voyeurism, sexting, inappropriate conversations, inappropriate touching, and others. And I'm sure there are many other ways the Lord uses to heal us as well.

When we submit to the Lordship of Jesus, we relinquish our rights to determine the terms of our healing. He desires us to be made whole. At the same time, choosing His will at every opportunity will go a long way towards bringing us into full transformation. Because He sees the big picture, and knows the beginning from the end, He will determine what is best for our healing process and our lives. It is our lot to love, honor, serve, and trust Him in the process so that we can be about the work of establishing His kingdom on earth.

Responses From You

From a brother in my church congregation: We must be bold; we must be informed; we must walk in the Spirit; we must embrace our Father's love so we can share it with gentleness... Thanks Daniel!

From a counselor: Thank you Daniel for standing strong against the evil one who continues to deceive and confuse the minds of God's created ones, male and female. God's richest blessings to you, your family and Abba's Delight!

From a FaceBook reader: PLEASE READ EVERY WORD OF THIS!!!! This post is 🙌🙌🙌🔥🔥🔥 thank you Daniel Mingo for clearly and prophetically speaking the TRUTH.

From a fellow Overcomer: Thanks for sharing. This could have been me writing this post. It's been so discouraging for churches to not be open to have people like you and I come to help and equip. I have been in ministry since 2013. And now with transgender movement, most churches have no clue. Keep up the good work. I have just done a presentation to 30 pastors from a certain denomination. The title of my presentation was: "The need to address human sexuality NOW!" I am hoping to do this presentation with many others and praying for open doors! Blessings on the work you do!
